

Get to Know John Wildhack '80

Syracuse University's Next Director of Athletics

Born and raised in Buffalo

1980 Graduate of S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications

Advisory Board Member for the David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics

40

Newhouse at 40 Gala Honoree

Married to Amy Wildhack; sons Tommy and James (pictured above) and MJ (not pictured)

On Coming Back to 'Cuse

“Syracuse University played a profound role in my life’s trajectory and I’m confident I wouldn’t be where I am without the education and opportunities this institution afforded me.”

—John Wildhack

Career Highlights

Negotiated a nine-year deal with the NBA

Won more than 30 Emmy Awards

Produced ESPN's first live regular-season college football game and first live NFL game

Negotiated a 20-year agreement with the SEC

Responsible for 50,000 hours of content annually

Secured long-term multiplatform agreements with the NBA, Major League Baseball, College Football Playoffs, ACC, Big 12, US Open Tennis, the Rose and Sugar Bowls, the WNBA, the American Athletic Conference and the Mountain West Conference

ESPN Career

Joined in 1980

2014-2016

Executive Vice President, Programming and Production

2012-2014

Executive Vice President, Production

2009-2012

Executive Vice President, Programming, Acquisitions and Strategic Program Planning

2007-2009

Executive Vice President, Programming, Acquisitions and Strategy

2005-2007

Senior Vice President, Programming, Acquisitions and Strategy

1994-2005

Senior Vice President, Programming

1993-1994

Senior Vice President, Event Production

1991-1993

Vice President, Event Production

1990-1991

Director, Event Production

1987-1990

Producer, Sunday Night Football

1985-1987

Producer, College Football, NCAA Basketball, Boxing, Golf and Auto Racing

1983-1985

Senior Associate Producer

1982-1983

Associate Producer

1980-1982

Production Assistant